

“ISO27001 is the industry standard which governs security of information and networks systems. The aim of this standard is to establish and maintain effective information management systems through continual improvement”

Sovereign Secure can assist you through every step of the process required to attain ISO27001 certification. We ensure that your company is fully compliant in every area, and ultimately improve the performance of your business. There are two choices available: a compliant certificate issued by Sovereign Secure; or the formal certification route. Either way, having Sovereign Secure in your corner will ensure a successful outcome for your organisation.

Sovereign Secure provides insightful consultancy advice and solutions for ISO27001, ensuring that our clients are aware of its importance and compliancy requirements. ISO27001 isn't just vital for an organisation, it can increasingly be a business benefit too, directly improving performance and securing new business.

Our team will carry out a thorough assessment of your organisation, to identify any areas which need attention in order to achieve compliance. We will then provide you with a clear plan of action, detailing exactly what you need to do to achieve certification and to continue to retain ISO27001 and all its benefits in the future. Using a specialist approach to this process, we adapt our assessment to your company's very specific requirements. We will quickly and efficiently bring your business into line with what the industry needs and expects. We have a proven track record of our clients achieving certification on the first attempt and retaining their certifications.

Our team of ISO27001 consultants work with a wide range of clients at every stage and aspect of planning for, securing and retaining ISO27001. They combine a high level of expertise with a thorough understanding of information security management and ISO27001 best practice

Our team's commercial understanding and practical approach ensures that all of our clients are supported at every stage of a project and have the confidence and ability to maximise commercial and business returns on investments (ROI), as well as benefits from

Pre-certification Audits

We work with each client on an individual basis. We have delivered a significant number of bespoke projects, with key area or stages of a certification. We can also initiate a project, providing gap analysis, risk assessments and risk remediation and treatment plans, through to successful project delivery and certification.

While many organisations require full ISO27001 certification, a number of our clients only require a detailed analysis and delivery of security policies, solutions and training, resulting in a Sovereign Secure Compliant Certificate, providing them with confidence, peace of mind and a clear strategy

SOVEREIGN SECURE

Whether you want to proceed with the formal ISO27001 certification process or would like Sovereign Secure to issue our compliant certificate, we can work with you to provide the best expert advice that is right for your organisation.

Our team is skilled in policy development, providing clear plans and expert advice for our clients, tailored to your organisations objectives, timescales and budgets, to achieve certification and monitor policies as required. Our services extend to: staff awareness training and management presentations; helping our clients' employees and senior management understand their organisation's information and compliance risks in line with ISO27001; identifying problems and providing solutions to achieve and retain compliance; and their risk of exposure to security failures. Our training and presentations are tailored for individual organisations and audiences, including anyone who is involved with processing information, uses information technology in their daily job, or who use the internet for business.

Our team will include all relevant information, including findings and insights from reviews and audits, and will communicate using technical content that is clear and concise and can be understood and interpreted by a broad range of individuals. More technical training can also be provided and tailored for clients' relevant employees.

Prior to a formal certification application we will carry out a detailed pre-certification audit, in order to identify any actions or solutions that are needed to achieve a successful full audit and ISO27001 certification.
